

Anatoliy Oginsky, M.Sc.

A research analyst, with experience in assessing the effectiveness of agricultural technologies, sustainable agriculture, and environmental protection policies.

EXPERIENCE

June 2008 – present

Research Analyst, George Morris Centre, Guelph Ontario

Responsibilities include providing research support for Senior Associates, collecting, analyzing and organizing economic data

Oct 2006 – June 2008

Research Assistant, George Morris Centre, Guelph Ontario

2003 – 2005

Research Assistant, University of Guelph, Guelph Ontario

- Developed medium-scale linear optimization model for simulating swine farms behaviour under Ontario Nutrient Management Act
- Modeled the Environmental and Economic impacts of Ontario Nutrient Management Act on Ontario swine farms

1999 - 2001

Head of Land Resources Department, Ministry of Environment and Natural Resources, Ukraine

- Guided and participated in numerous projects that targeted sustainable development of rural and urban territories
- Analyzed and wrote reports on the state and tendencies of Ukraine's soils; the information was included into Ukraine's National Report on State of the Environment

EDUCATION

- |      |  |
|------|--|
| 2005 | Master of Science Degree, Agricultural EconomicsUniversity of Guelph, Department of Agricultural Economics and Business                                  |
| 1990 | Master of Science Degree (equivalent), Agricultural EconomicsAll-Russian Institute of Economics, Labour and Management in Agriculture,Moscow, Russia |
| 1986 | Bachelor of Arts Degree in Economics, MacroeconomicsOdessa State Economic University, Odessa Ukraine   |