

George Morris Centre Named One of Waterloo Area's Top Employers

Guelph, ON (November 29, 2011) – On November 26, 2011, the Waterloo Region Record and the Guelph Mercury published the Waterloo Area's Top 15 Employers for 2012. The George Morris Centre, which was named to the list in 2009, 2010 and 2011, has again been recognized as a leader in operations and human resource activities.

Waterloo Area's Top Employers is an annual competition organized by the editors of Canada's Top 100 Employers. This special designation recognizes the employers in the Kitchener-Waterloo and Guelph area that lead their industries in offering exceptional places to work. Mediacorp Canada, host of the Top Employers competition, takes applicants through an extensive review process in order to identify industry leaders in the following areas:

- Physical Workplace
- Health, Financial & Family Benefits
- Employee Communications
- Training & Skills Development
- Work Atmosphere & Social Activities
- Vacation & Time Off
- Performance Management
- Community Involvement

Bob Seguin, Executive Director of the George Morris Centre, appreciates the recognition. “I am very pleased that once again the George Morris Centre has been recognized for its leadership in providing a favourable and innovative work environment for the Centre team.”

The George Morris Centre is a national, independent, economic research institute that focuses on the agriculture and food industry. Areas of research include: trade, regulation, cost of production, food safety, market analysis, agricultural research, environment, competitiveness and corporate strategy.
